

Lewis Clark Quilts of Valor Feb. 2023

National Sew Day,
February 4, 2023

10 Year Anniversary of this Event!

Join us at the First Church of God, 910 Sycamore in Clarkston, starting at 9AM, with awards at 10AM (15 veterans). Bring your project/tools/supplies, your own hand work, beverage and please wear your name tag. Lunch is being generously provided by Lynette Storey, Betty Kendrick, and Vickie Storey, and we'll have a short meeting during lunch. Door prizes, along with a game of "Heads or Tails" will round out a day of FUN! So, bring your dollars. $20 limit.

Seaport Quilters Guild Quilt Show

Date Correction: The 2023 SQG Quilt Show is a week later this year—Saturday, April 29-Sunday, April 30. Please make this note on your calendar. Planning for this community activity will be happening soon.

Quilt of Valor Nominations – Although the background software for the QOVF nominations system is getting an update, groups overlapping states' borders still present a challenge for the routing of requests (LCQOV is one of many groups in this category). Therefore, it is still necessary for us to use "Idaho" as the state when entering an address for a request in a border state (such as Clarkston, Idaho). There is a section for "Additional Information" which is an important space to use for comments and is especially helpful if LCQOV is to make the award.

Upcoming Events:

Monday, 3/6 – March Sew Day, starting at 9AM (no awards) at the First Church of God in Clarkston

Wednesday, 3/29 – National Vietnam War Veterans Day & LCQOV Awards – Elks Lodge in Lewiston, 5PM. Recipients and guests need to arrive by 4:45PM, and dinner is provided free to the QOV recipients, starting at 6PM.

One-on-One Award From Dawna Glenn: "I awarded this quilt on Wednesday January 25. He volunteered for the Army (1962-1968) and then he volunteered to go to Vietnam. Dick became a Green Beret and later became a class instructor. He has written and published 3 or 4 books about his time in the military. I don't know the story behind his eye patch but I think he has a sense of humor. The family was having a celebration for his wife, Linda." His quilt was pieced by an Anonymous Donor for LCQOV, and quilted and bound by Judy Howard.

Mike Slaybaugh, of Pomeroy, received his Quilt of Valor on January 3, 2023. He originally joined the Marines and ended up training the troops in Afghanistan. He also was in charge of training the Afghanistan uniformed police. His quilt was made by June Moore of Royal City, quilted and bound by Alice Gwinn.

LCQOV Website Remember to check out our website! Nancy Sattler is doing a wonderful job with this and it is a great resource. The Sandy Berg Mystery Quilt will be available here!

LCQOV – OQV Top Checklist – Please use this form when turning in a top for LCQOV – the checklist is on the LCQOV website, available at sew days, and in LCQOV kits. Include your name and phone, accurate measurements of the top, and any notes at the bottom. Remember to press the top from the front—clipping any threads caught in the seams, and from the back—clipping long stitching or raveling threads. Use a lint roller to remove loose threads and pet hair. Our quilters deserve tops which are will prepped for quilting, thank you!

The AmazonSmile customer-directed donation program will permanently shut down on February 20, 2023 so if you are going to make any purchases before then, make sure you do so with your Amazon Smile Account.

Happy Valentine's Day!
